DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

The specification is objected to because the specification does not contain the headings as required above. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

Art Unit: 3721

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is replete with legal phrases such as "Said". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

The claims are replete with literal elements such as "plane being disposed", "and then", "subsequently vertically movable", "in each case", "by approximately", "disposed centrically" and "about which".

Art Unit: 3721

In claim 1, the terms "same plane" and "plane of movement" lack antecedent basis.

In claim 2, it is unclear to the examiner from the specification what the scope of "swiveling process" encompasses. The claim as recited appears to claim that the separating stamp swivels, but the specification discloses the swiveling of the fastener.

In claim 3, it is unclear to the examiner if there is a new former being claimed, or if the former refers to the fingers of the stamp.

In claim 4, it is unclear to the examiner what the scope of "implemented in each case" encompasses.

In claim 6, the recitation "by approximately" is indefinite in that it fails to positively recite a range for the length of the fingers.

In claim 10, the recitation "vertical longitudinal axis" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giraudi et al (US 4,043,011) in view of Holmes (US 4,911,293).

As the examiner can understand the claim, Giraudi discloses the invention as claimed including an apparatus for closing bags comprised of closure 44, arranged in a strip 41, conveyed in feed channel 43, and slid into opening 45, where it is applied to a neck of a bag "C" as the neck is gathered into a ruche (generally indicated by "B" in figure 5), separating stamp 36, shaped stamp 37, both of which are located in the same plane as the channel (longitudinally) and with the channel being located in a plane orthogonal to the longitudinal plane (see Figs. 1, 4-6, C4,L46-57 and C7,L17-63). What Giraudi does not disclose is the specifics of the clip having linked connecting tabs, and a plate shape. However, Holmes teaches that it is old and well known in the art of packaging to provide a strip of securing clips 10, having a plate shape and interconnected by tabs 20 for the purpose of efficiently loading and separating tabs in a packaging operation (see Figs. 1-3).

Alternatively, while the claims recite the use of a closure strip of clips, having a plate appearance and tabs, "expressions relating the apparatus to contents thereof during an intended operation are of no significance in determining patentability of the apparatus claim." Ex parte Thibault, 164 USPQ 666, 667 (Bd. App. 1969). Furthermore, "inclusion of material or article worked upon by a structure being claimed does not impart patentability to the claims." In re Young, 75 F.2d 996, 25 USPQ 69 (CCPA 1935). See also MPEP § 2115.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the invention of Giraudi with the tabs as taught by Holmes for the purpose of efficiently loading and separating tabs in a packaging operation.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 2-13 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
